80 Sappers Leave Shaft Only Minutes Before Deadly Blast

WEST FRANKFORT, III., Aug. 15-A gas accumulation was blamed today for an explosion which killed three men in the 600-foot deep Oreint coal mine No. 2 at West Frankfort,

The blast, the second at West Frankfort in less than a month, injured two other miners. Their condition was not serious.

Approximately 80 other workers escaped injury. Most of them had left the pit several minutes before the explosion last night.

Those killed were: Charles H. Clark, a driller; Walter Clements, Jr., and George L. Filkins, cutting machine operators, all of West Frankfort.

THE INJURED were William A. Blair and Mike Stinkiewicz. both of Benton, Ill. They suffered minor burns and bruises and were permitted to go to their

Sen. Buck Also Forecasts House Buying Strike Due To High Costs

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15-Sen. Buck (R) Del., today predicted that congress again will extend rent control.

He also forecast a "buyers" strike" on newly-built houses because of soaring prices.

Buck said he did not believe there will be any further raising of rent ceilings, beyond the 15 per cent permitted now under leases, in the extension of controls which he predicted.

The Delaware Republican is chairman of the senate banking committee's housing and rent subcommittee, which drafted the present rent control extension, and which handles housing legislation.

Buck saw nothing in present stead, he declared that buyers are rebelling at new house prices and that, at least in some areas, they are "moving" more slowly.

Ohio's nearly three-week-long drought was ended today by showers, but the heat wave was modified only slightly as the weather bureau forecast rising temperatures by tomorrow or

Rising Temperatures By Saturday Or Sunday. Says Forecaster

By International News Service Ohio's nearly three-week-long drought was ended today by showers, but the heat wave was modified only slightly as the weather bureau forecast rising temperatures by tomorrow or Sunday. With the God-sent rains over the state also came the destructive violence of elements, which in the form of wind and lightning killed three Ohioans and laid waste to some farm

areas. Two Akron high school girls were killed by a lightning bolt at Lakeside when they and two male companions sought refuge under a tree. The two men suffered severe shock.

A 33-year-old Cleveland man was struck and killed by lightning as he ran from one shelter to another at a construction job during the height of the storm. Farmers in the Perrysburg area reported extensive damage, particularly to corn, as the wind-driven rain and hail beat down crops. The rain began falling yesterday afternoon after the mercury headed into the 90's and the hu-of the prolenged terrid period. IN A MATTER of two hours temperatures cascaded from a high of 92 degrees at Cleveland to 65 degrees. This abrupt change was duplicated over the state as the thundershowers brought relief to both man and

Spent In Italy Where High Brass Is Accused

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15-Gen. Omar Bradley, who is expected soon to be named army chief of staff, will make a personal inspection of Lt. Gen. J. C. H. Lee's Mediterranean command, source of numerous bitter complaints from postwar GI's.

This was confirmed today by Bradley's top aides in the veterans administration, who said his European itinerary calls for "at least three days" in Italy, where troops serving under Lee have complained of mistreatment and of excessively lavish living by the "high brass."

Bradley sails from New York Monday on an inspection tour of Army installations in Europe specifically requested by President Truman.

He will report to the President one of the most important mat- Hill, class leader. ters Bradley will tackle.

Privately, they point out that there is no love lost between Bradley and Lee, who has been accused of "living like a potentate" while his troops cope with morale-shatering conditions ranging from inadequate food and sanitary facilities to a preponderance of disciplinary regulations which enlisted men scornfully call "chicken."

In World War II, when Bradley was an Army commander in the field and Lee was a supply officer, there were frequent clashes between the two, just as here were between Lee and the late Gen. George S. Patton.

Additionally, Bradley, a plainspoken Missourian, is a man of CENTRAL OHIO FARMS mble tastes who is likely to frown on such alleged extravagances as the palatial dwelling quarters Lee is said to maintain along with a private railway train, and his asserted emphasis on GI humility.

Bradley, on his European mission, is backed not only by the White House request for his tour, but by the persistent belief in Washington-that he soon will

Privately, they point out that there is no love lost between Bradley and Lee, who has been accused of "living like a potentate" while his troops cope with morale-shatering conditions ranging from inadequate food and sanitary facilities to a preponderance of disciplinary regulations which enlisted men scornfully call "chicken."

In World War II, when Bradley was an Army commander in the field and Lee was a supply officer, there were frequent clashes between the two, just as there were between Lee and the late Gen. George S. Patton.

MOREOVER, whereas Lee was known through the European theater as a stern 'Spit-and-Polish' disciplinarian, Bradley was regarded by his S. commander in Germany. men as a sympathetic commander who was willing to admit delberg, Munich, and Austrian that even private soldiers were points before going to the Meduman beings and entitled to be treated as such.

Additionally, Bradley, a plainpoken Missourian, is a man of humble tastes who is likely to frown on such alleged extravagances as the palatial dwelling quarters Lee is said to maintain along with a private railway train, and his asserted emphasis on GI humility.

Bradley, on his European mision, is backed not only by the White House request for his tour, but by the persistent belief in Washington-that he soon will leave his VA post to replace Zummunummunummunumm

ASSIGNMENT: AMERICA

By Kenneth L. Dixon Distributed by International News Service

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 - Somewhat overshadowed by the various probes and high-powered publicity developments on capitol hill, several pieces of important military legislation became law last week with the President's signature.

Considerable attention had been focused on at least a couple of the bills during the last days of the Eightieth congress-the revision of terminal leave pay practices and the new Army and Navy promotion bill was aimed at eliminating the old "promotion by seniority" practice which has been the target of so much criticism.

However, from the point of view of the nation's future military strength, there were other measures at least equally as

One was a bill establishing a medical service corps within the ranks of the regular Army. Truman's signature on the measure now makes it possible to give Regular natural surroundings, not hemmed in by Army commissions to specialists in fields closely allied to medicine - rather than confining such experts to the reserve where they could be called upon only in an emer-

But certain types of problems should be treated radically different in the two games. That is especially so in the matter of safety plays by the declarer. WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 - Somewhat overshadowed by the various probes and high-powered publicity developments on capitol hill, several pieces of important military legislation became law last week with the President's signature.

Considerable attention had been focused on at least a couple of the bills during the last days of the Eightieth congress-the revision of terminal leave pay practices and the new Army and Navy promotion bill was aimed at eliminating the old "promotion by seniority" practice which has been the target of so much criticism.

However, from the point of view of the nation's future military strength, there were other measures at least equally as

One was a bill establishing a medical service corps within the ranks of the regular Army. TWO DIFFERENT GAMES IN A majority of situations, the action which would be best in rubber bridge is the same as that which would pan out best in duplicate. But certain types of problems should be treated radically different in the two games. That is especially so in the matter of safety plays by the declarer. In rubber bridge, practically any play which increases the chances of making the contract is sound. In match-point duplicate, however, overdoing the safety play proposition is bad business.

ATHLETICS

NEW YORK, Aug. 15-Custer's last stand will be re-enacted starting at Yankee stadium tonight when the Boston Red Sox begin a three-game series with the New York Yankees.

The second-place Sox, trailing the Yanks by 11-1/2 games, must make a clean sweep of the series to retain the ghost of a chance to overhaul the leaders.

One break for the Bosox is that New York's two outstanding stars, rookie pitcher Spec Shea tonight but his neck, heel and shoulder are bothering him and he has been forced to lay off for Milwaukee most of the past ten days.

Furthermore Tommy Henrich, the Yankee "pro", has a St. Paul sprained ankle.

The Yanks, however, have an adequate replacement for Shea in Karl Drews, who will pitch tonight. He has been improving so rapidly that he may rival Shea as the pitching rookie of the year in the junior circuit.

Rookie Al Clark, subbing for Dimaggio, filled the clipper's shoes ably yesterday by whacking two doubles as the Yanks downed the Athletics, 8 to 5. Allie Reynolds, the winning hurler, became the first American League pitcher to win 15 games this year.

IN THE NATIONAL League the Brooklyn Dodgers made "it two straight over Boston, which is a winning streak for them in these parlous days. Vic Lombardi bested Warren Spahn, 1 to 0, in a duel of southpaws. Lom- Detr bardi yielded only four hits and Spahn six.

Dodger Lead Increases To 41/2 Games With 1 To 0 Win From Boston

NEW YORK, Aug. 15-Custer's last stand will be re-enacted moment starting at Yankee stadium tonight when the Boston Red Sox begin a three-game series with the New York Yankees.

The second-place Sox, trailing the Yanks by 11-1/2 games, must make a clean sweep of the series to retain the ghost of a chance to overhaul the leaders.

One break for the Bosox is that New York's two outstanding stars, rookie pitcher Spec Shea and veteran outfielder Joe Dimaggio, are in no shape for fulltime duty.

The ailing Shea is not yet strong enough to go the route and will be used only in a relief capacity. Dimag expects to play tonight but his neck, heel and shoulder are bothering him and he has been forced to lay off for most of the past ten days. most of the past ten days.

Furthermore Tommy Henrich, the Yankee "pro", has a sprained ankle.

The Yanks, however, have an adequate replacement for Shea in Karl Drews, who will pitch tonight. He has been improving so rapidly that he may rival Shea as the pitching rookie of the year in the junior circuit.

Rookie Al Clark, subbing for Dimaggio, filled the clipper's shoes ably yesterday by whacking two doubles as the Yanks downed the Athletics, 8 to 5. Allie Reynolds, the winning hurler, became the first American League pitcher to win 15 games this year.

IN THE NATIONAL League the Brooklyn Dodgers made it Brooklyn two straight over Boston, which is a winning streak for them in these parlous days. Vic Lombardi bested Warren Spahn, 1 to 0, in a duel of southpaws. Lombardi yielded only four hits and

Ohio Record Stands Now At 87 Compared With 191 Same Time Last Year

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 15-Infantile paralysis cases are running behind last year and no one knows why.

As a matter of fact, there are so many unknown quantities concerning that disease that State Health Director John D. Poterfield, Ill., said today that the only things of which he seems fairly certain are that the sickness is caused by a virus and that it is most likely to strike during the hot summer months

Dr. P. L. Harris, chief of the diseases division, echoes his boss's sentiments by saying, "I Akron, O. can't explain why poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis) runs low one year and high another."

Porterfield asserted that "this is a good year." He said that throughout the country, infantile paralysis cases are not so numerous as in previous years.

Harris quoted figures from the latest national report available to him showing that through Aug. 2 there were only 1,955 cases in the United States compared to last year's figure of 5,450 over the same 31-week period and to a five-year median of 2,913. Hints on Etiquette

The real test of your ability in getting along with people is when you are associated with one of those "difficult" people who find fault, contradict and often insult others. Treat them as you would any other human being, with courtesy and consideration, but maintain your own self-respect, and you will find that they re-

Today's Horoscope Although you are aggressive, versatile and sometimes arbitrary, you are determined and not easily discouraged in the face of failure. You usually accomplish your purpose one way or another.

You love children, your home, and have many loyal friends. The day is good. Much activity is shown where outside, joint and marital interests are concerned. Decisions may be subject to change. In your next year you are advised to exercise great care in health, love. family and business affairs. Guard against over-strain through excesses; avoid law and prodigality. Neither court nor marry during this time. Born today a child will not be fortunate. Heart weakness threatens in later years, especially through too much pleasure and conviviality. Elders, too, will not be helpful.
